Summer Fun Ahead: As winter finally draws to a close, we look forward to the warm and sunny days ahead. There are so many events and activities to look forward to as our summer begins to unfold. I would like to highlight one event and one activity that holds a lot of positive memories for me.

The Event is Community Day.

COMMUNITY DAY

It is scheduled for Saturday June 4th 2016 at Stafford Park (Our 8th year). It is a jammed packed day full of special events, sports, food, music, and just good old fun. The kids just run around and have a ball with their friends, get an ice cream, jump in a bouncy house and yell for their duck to win the race. The adults get to socialize, grab a couple hot dogs, listen to some great music and try to find their kids. The day is capped off by the spectacular Optimist fireworks show. One year during the fireworks show I heard an excited parent said, "What an awesome day! That is what small town America is all about!" I have always thought that comment was perfect.

The Activity is Swimming

For many of us swimming is one of our most anticipated activities of the summer. For this to remain a fond summer memory, water safety must be a crucial part of our planning. Did you know according to the CDC, every day, about ten people die from unintentional drowning? Of these, two are children aged 14 or younger. Drowning ranks fifth among the leading causes of unintentional injury death in the United States. Also according to the CDC, two main factors that affect the drowning risk are the lack of swimming ability and the lack of close supervision while swimming.

Last year, and again this year we will partner with the town of Pompey summer swim program. This program is free for LaFayette residents and is conducted by certified swim instructors at the Cazenovia College pool. This a great opportunity for our children to learn how to swim at an early age. For more information about dates, times and registration you can go to the Town of LaFayette web site www.townoflafayette.com then click on the Community Council Tab.

Recreation Swimming opportunities will transition from the former LaFayette beach to the other beach within our Town- Jamesville Beach. This facility is operated by Onondaga County Parks and offers a substantial water front, sandy beach area, picnic grounds, playground equipment, large changing rooms and lifeguard supervision.

2016 Jamesville Beach Hours:

May 28 - June 12: Friday - Sunday & Memorial Day • 11am - 6pm
June 17 - August 14: Friday - Sunday & July 4 • 11am - 6pm
Monday - Thursday • 12 - 6pm (Please note: The Beach will be closed June 18 & 19 due to Ironman.)

August 20 & 21: 11am - 6pm

The beach is closed from August 15-19.

For more information about Jamesville Beach you can go to www.onondagacountyparks.com
Have a great Summer.

From the Town Clerk

Welcome Spring! It's the wonderful time of the year when snow finally melts, trees begin to blossom and the streets look lively and green again! Even though there might've been a bit of confusion with Mother Nature, who sent some snow for a rather cold welcome to the new season, we can't wait until temperatures start going up, and we see our areas come back alive once more. Spring comes with the idea of rebirth, rejuvenation, renewal, resurrection and regrowth, and most people see it as a time of change. Here are some quotes to start celebrating Spring and wishing everyone a happy new season!

"No winter lasts forever; no spring skips its turn." - Hal Borland

"If we had no winter, the spring would not be so pleasant; if we did not sometimes taste of adversity, prosperity would not be so welcome." - Anne Bradstreet

"April prepares her green traffic light and the world thinks Go." - Christopher Morley

"Spring is when you feel like whistling even with a shoe full of slush." - Doug Larson

"It's spring fever. That is what the name of it is. And when you've got it, you want — oh, you don't quite know what it is you do want, but it just fairly makes your heart ache, you want it so!" - Mark Twain

"I love spring anywhere, but if I could choose I would always greet it in a garden." - Ruth Stout

"Science has never drummed up quite as effective a tranquilizing agent as a sunny spring day." - W. Earl Hall

"Spring shows what God can do with a drab and dirty world." - Virgil A. Kraft

"Every spring is the only spring — a perpetual astonishment." - Ellis Peters

"Spring is sooner recognized by plants than by men." - Chinese Proverb

"You can cut all the flowers but you cannot keep spring from coming." - Pablo Neruda

"The beautiful spring came; and when Nature resumes her loveliness, the human soul is apt to revive also." - Harriet Ann Jacobs

"I suppose the best kind of spring morning is the best weather God has to offer." - Dodie Smith

"Despite the forecast, live like it's spring." - Lilly Pulitzer

"Spring is the time of plans and projects." - Leo Tolstoy

"Spring is nature's way of saying, 'Let's party!'"
- Robin Williams

Hello LaFayette Residents—

Thank you to all residents, groups and organizations that participated in making the annual Earth Day event a HUGE success! As the Highway Departments heads into the summer months, a lot of highway work is planned. Another successful trip to Albany advocating more money for Local Highway roads on March 9th was Outstanding! As Vice President of the Onondaga County Highway Association we worked with state lawmakers to increase CHIPS (Consolidated Highway Improvement Program) funding and add millions to help out our local decaying infrastructure.

From the Dog Control Officers

We recently have received many calls from both Lafayette residents and non residents reporting that they have found a dog walking along the town road and have stopped and picked it up. We want to review the town laws in regards to this action and the reasoning for this action being an inappropriate one.

The Town of Lafayette, at the present time, does not have a leash law. The dog you see walking down the road may belong to your neighbor or a resident in the vicinity of your home. In many cases the dog may find his way home. If you do pick up the dog and involve the Dog Control officer the dog needs to be transported to the shelter. The owner then has to retrieve the animal from the shelter and is billed a minimum of 150.00 dollars to retrieve their pet. If the owner does not retrieve their pet the town is charged costing the taxpayer.

We know that you all have very genuine concern for the animals safety and welfare but perhaps before loading the dog in your car it would be better for all concerned to either call us to investigate further and hopefully reach out to your neighbors to locate the owners.

We have had some instances where the person that has picked up the dog has been bitten and this is always a possibility when dealing with animals that may be anxious, scared or even hurt.

The other important part is that all dog owners are responsible to keep their pets safe and I encourage all pet owners to accept this responsibility. We also have a chip reader and recommend pet owners to take advantage of this technology. It is also a law that your pet has a collar with identification in place to make identification in cases that involve your pet.

Tickets can be issued if your dog is a nuisance, destroys property and hurts someone and this may also involve the court and legal action. It is also the law that all dogs have an up to date rabies shot as well as a license. Please refer to the free rabies clinics in the Town Clerk's article or on the town of LaFayette event calendar on the home page www.townoflafayette.com If you have any questions regarding the NYS laws as well as our town laws you can obtain them from our town office or please feel free to contact us.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation with this issue and let's all keep our pets safe and happy!!

From the LaFayette Optimists

Spring is in the air and the Lafayette Optimists are on the ground ! We will do a clean up of the park and then it's on to the Fishing Derby and the Bike Rodeo. We will be replacing some picnic tables and adding benches to the walking path.

First we need to report that the Second Annual Lafayette Optimist 7th and 8th Grade Boys Invitational Basketball Tournament was a great success. Money was raised for two local families in need and the kids tore up and down the basketball courts at the high school . A good time was had by all.

The Fishing Derby is an annual event in May at the pond at Fred Stafford Park. The pond is stocked beforehand and the kids are let loose to catch what they can. Plenty of prizes are given out for the different age groups etc. We also have hot dogs aplenty which we cook up under the pavilion. To see so many kids , young and old, with poles out ringing the pond is like something out of a Norman Rockwell painting.

Also, we sponsor / run the Bike Rodeo. In June ..we have a bike course, etc. . Kids doing laps on their bikes around the pond . Bike safety is stressed of course. We also sponsor an Oratory contest in the school system as well. Both boys and girls compete.

Lets not forget that the Lafayette Optimists also sponsor the Fireworks at the Lafayette Community Day event. If you haven't seen this pyrotechnic display you are missing a great show ! The fireworks are put on by a very professional outfit and we fund it with our annual Golf Ball Drop so if you see signs up for ticket sales or are approached by an Optimist with tickets in hand you know the money stays local and is enjoyed by the entire community.

We will also be sponsoring several athletic related activities involving the High School. We decide on which activities to sponsor based partly on whether it's an ongoing partnership/relationship but also on how local it is and how it directly relates to the kids in the community. As a rule though we are a doing club not a check writing club. We have offered the High School Prom people a bus ride home from the after prom party back to Lafayette. If they just want the check fine but we thought this would be a nice idea to keep the kids together and maybe minimize some late night mischief or at least maximize the safety of the kids.

That brings us to another line from the Optimist Creed. "Promise yourself to forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future. "As an Optimist I would have written the line "Learn from the mistakes of the past and use this knowledge to press on to the greater achievements of the future But I am not messing with the Creed. Every Great Man or Woman has made mistakes. Bon Jovi said the secret to success is to fall down 9 times but to get up 10 times! I love the phrase...Press On! Its not sit back and wait to see what happens ...Its not imagine that you have no control over your life but Press On!...Lean In!

Take Charge! Make a Difference! Take Control ...Be Positive...in fact Be Optimistic!

Southern Hills Preservation Corporation

Christmas Comes But Once a Year – Or does it? This past Christmas parents across Central New York asked Santa’s elves to visit their children, inspect for good behavior, and hand deliver a personalized letter from the Jolly Old Elf, himself. Visit they did -- delivering holiday magic, dreams come true, and the spirit of giving.

Dispatched by the North Pole Inspection Company (northpolesyr.com), these elves did more than create lasting childhood memories. They delivered the ‘spirit of giving’ to southern Onondaga County when they generously donated one-third of their proceeds to Southern Hills Preservation Corporation. Southern Hills is a nonprofit agency that will use this donation, throughout the year, to provide housing services to low and moderate-income residents of Southern Onondaga County.

Since 1986, Southern Hills Preservation Corporation (SHPC) has been assisting individuals and families fulfill their dream of having safe, decent, and affordable housing. Located in LaFayette, SHPC serves residents living in the towns of Otisco, Onondaga, Pompey, Spafford, LaFayette, Fabius, Marcellus, Skaneateles, and Tully.

Southern Hills has funds available to help income eligible residents buy their first home, or make much needed repairs to their existing home. The agency can also assist with information and referrals to other programs. More information is available at www.southernhillpc.org, or stop by the office at 2383 US Route 11, where the spirit of giving is celebrated year round.

LaFayette Rural Cemetery

Your volunteers at the Cemetery Board are still on the job!

The Cemetery Board welcomes Esther Klaiber, our newest member, who is filling the spot vacated when Dick Allen resigned recently due to ill health. We thank him for his many years of faithful service. Esther’s new colleagues on the board are Lloyd Amidon, Ray Bishop (Treasurer), Bud Fisher (Secretary), John Hughes, myself (Vice President), Dick Naylor (President), Sumner Palmer, and Dick Scammell. If you own a cemetery lot and think you might be interested in sitting on the board, let a board member know. Vacancies come up from time to time.

We would usually not be able to dig graves during the winter months because of frozen ground, but thanks to the mild winter we’ve had, there have been two burials in the cemetery already this year. If the ground had been too hard to dig, the caskets would have been stored in our vault the building that is below the area where the Memorial Day ceremonies take place—at no extra cost to the families, until weather allowed for their burial. The only time we charge for vault storage is when the remains are going to be buried elsewhere than in our cemetery.

We still have cemetery lots for sale. Call me at 677-9363

for more information about lot sales or burial costs.

Everyone is welcome to attend the Cemetery Board’s annual open meeting, which will be held at the Session Room of Columbian Presbyterian Church on Tuesday, May 17 at 7:00 pm.

Donations to the cemetery are always welcomed to help us with the costs of mowing and upkeep.

We also invite you to consider making bequests to the cemetery association in your wills to help us to maintain it in a condition that respects all of our deceased loved ones.

LaFayette Outdoors

We are saddened to announce the retirement of Rainer Brocke as contributor to the LaFayette Outdoors Column. He has held the position for many years with countless stories speaking of and capturing the beauty of our environment that we are so lucky to have here in LaFayette.

Thanks to Greg Titus, our local town historian, for tracking down what we believe to be his very first LaFayette Outdoors article printed in July of 1995.

As a dedication to him, we have reprinted that article on the following page. Enjoy one last story from Rainer Brocke. Thank you Rainer for all you have done for the Town of LaFayette.

Here's to continued recovery from all of us and thanks again for all your wondrous stories.

My name is Craig Giancola. My wife, Gina and our three girls moved to LaFayette almost a decade ago. The only regret we have is that we didn't do it years sooner! We absolutely love living here! I have the honor of filling the position that Rainer has held for so many years. Rainer does such a great job with the newsletter...so I have big shoes to fill! But, I am excited to share my stories and the local news of the "LaFayette Outdoors" beginning next edition.

Pick up your copy of Roy Dodge's new Book "The Conklin Mills and Falls" LaFayette, NY at the Town Hall or the LaFayette Library or purchase online

<http://www.lulu.com/shop/j-roy-dodge/the-conklin-mills-and-falls-lafayette-ny/paperback/product-22582693.html>

The Conklin saw and grist mills and the mill house are gone, reclaimed by forest growth. All that remains is the beautiful Conklin Cascades or Falls. Destined to become a New York State park in 1929 and the second failed attempt by Onondaga County Parks in 1962, "the Beauty Spot of Central New York" remained in the hands of multi-party land ownership. This publication is documentation of the Conklin family millers, their businesses, homes, family members and neighbors of "Marionville", later Berwyn, and contains a multitude of rare photographs of this section of Onondaga County in New York.

From the Parks Department

Thank you to the Highway Department for providing the Parks Department with a tractor to plow the recreation path this past winter. Their efforts, and the cooperation of Mother Nature, allowed the path to be cleared and opened for use many days, providing residents with additional opportunities to get outside to enjoy the parks for healthy activities.

Despite Mother Nature's early spring attempts to keep winter weather around, the snow and cold weather will eventually give way to warmer weather, which means the grass is going to green up and start growing. When you use the parks, please be cautious when mowers or other power equipment is being used while you are present.

The swings, and the volleyball and tennis nets, have been reinstalled, for the warm weather months. New trash receptacles have been purchased and placed throughout the parks. Please be "co-responsible" and help keep the parks clean by picking up any litter you may find while using the parks and appropriately discarding it in the receptacles.

REMINDER: ALL dogs are REQUIRED to be on a leash at Stafford Park. Please clean up after your dog – waste bags and a disposal receptacle is located in each section of the park.

LAFAYETTE OUTDOORS

reprinted from July 1995

Residents of our town are blessed with a richness and beauty of nature found in few other parts of the world. This column is about nature in our “neck of the woods”, the Town of LaFayette. It is also about our interactions with the natural world, trips to the country, bird watching, hunting, fishing, identifying things and however else the natural world may intrigue us. This column is your column. If you have suggestions, comments and questions, send them to me in care of the Town Newsletter (P.O. Box 193, LaFayette, NY 13084)

The following piece about LaFayette’s Wildlife will introduce this column. Through a gap in the May greenery, we secretly watched in the predawn light as a pair of beavers rippled the glassy waters of their pond. Suddenly, the whistle of wings overhead caught our attention. Ever so gracefully, two wood ducks tipped out of the sky, banked sharply and skated to a stop beyond the beavers. The beavers didn’t seem to notice, probably because the wood ducks had been frequent visitors lately. Would they nest the old white pine snag on the far shore? Up about 35 feet in the snag a pileated woodpecker had hollowed out of a cavity just the right size for a wood duck nest, or so we hoped! The wood ducks sat motionless and alert in the water, so neat in their spring plumage.

This pond has long been the focal point of our LaFayette field trips—trips that never fail to hold some wildlife drama for Judi, my wife, and me. In the spring, we watch the spectacular parade of warblers and the aerial displays of woodcock and snipe at dusk. Kingfishers and great blue herons are regular visitors to the pond in the summer. A raccoon family often searches the shallows for minnows. Once we spotted a white-tailed doe and her fawn in the marsh marigolds. In winter, gray fox tracks thread through the snow among the cattails. And recently, we’ve found snow tracks of our recent faunal addition, the coyote.

Since we settled in this lovely countryside, I have often wondered why the LaFayette area is so rich in wildlife. On any given day, hiker, hunter, bird watcher or cross country skier can count on a wildlife sideshow. One obvious reason for this variety is traceable to our agricultural history. Our landscape is a virtual patchwork of habitats—fields, shrub land and forest communities spread across the ridges and valleys, each habitat with its own characteristic species.

On steeper slopes abandoned by the farmer, pastures have grown up to shrub land and young forest. These plant communities are succeeding each other, helter skelter, towards the original climax forest type that once grew here—a grand forest of American beech, sugar maple, yellow birch, white pine and other species. The floor boards of our old farmhouse are made of American chestnut felled from that virgin forest 150 years ago. Unfortunately, we’ve lost the chestnut permanently to an imported disease, the European chestnut blight.

The transition from open land to forest is dramatically apparent when one compares today’s scenes with landscapes shown in old photos. Such comparisons are readily made using Roy Dodge’s excellent book: “Crossroads Town, A Photo-biography of the Town of LaFayette.” (This book is available at the LaFayette Public Library.) The forest wildlife we enjoy today—species such as the white-tailed deer, turkey and ruffed grouse are products of habitat succession over the last 100 years. However, this same change has also led to the decline of open land dwellers such as the bluebird and ring-necked pheasant.

There is another reason for LaFayette’s varied wildlife. On a clear day, drive along Route 11 and park on the crest of the hill just south of the High School. Look north and you will see the plain beyond Syracuse. This plain was once the bed of mighty Lake Iroquois, an enormous glacial lake that include Lake Ontario. The current elevation at Syracuse, just north of LaFayette Town is 450 feet.

Now look directly south. On the distant horizon, an angular ridge named Morgan Hill is just visible. This ridge flanks a “U” shaped valley—the glacial valley of Labrador Hollow. The ridge tops, remnants of the ancient Allegheny Plateau, exceed 1900 feet in elevation—identical to valley elevations in the central Adirondacks. Hence, within a distance of about 14 miles, most of it spanned by the Town of LaFayette, the land rises more than 1400 feet. This rise in elevation is accompanied by colder local climates and changes in flora and fauna. At the warm Syracuse end of LaFayette town, look for a touch of the South—oak and hickory woods with flowering dogwood understory, complete with mockingbirds along the forest edge. Towards the higher elevations to the south, the forests and brush lands are reminiscent of the Adirondacks and Canada. Here you will find hemlock stand, the hermit thrush, alders, blueberries and the white-throated sparrow.

Discover LaFayette’s wildlife on your own. You can get a good start by setting up bird feeders where you can watch them. On field trips, a pair of binoculars is helpful, but not necessary. There is a host of excellent field guide available to help identify mammals, birds, insects, amphibians, reptiles, fish or animal tracks. You will soon find others with whom you can share your wildlife thrills and observations. One organization that features frequent field trips in the central New York area is the Onondaga Audubon Society. This group meets monthly. If you wish to know more about this club, write to Onondaga Audubon Society, Box 620, Syracuse, NY 13201.

ICHOR THERAPEUTICS

LaFayette biotech company started by former SUNY Upstate student lands $1.35 million, attracts international investors.

LaFayette, New York, March 2nd, 2016 -- Ichor Therapeutics, a local biotechnology company focusing on therapeutic interventions for age-related disease, receives $1.35 million in new funding -- including $1 million from European investors -- and begins a 4-fold expansion of research capabilities in LaFayette, NY to engage in FDA compliant pre-clinical research.

Ichor was founded in 2013 by CEO Kelsey Moody - originally from Beekmantown, NY - while he was a medical student at SUNY Upstate Medical University. From its humble beginnings in the living room of Mr. Moody's Tipperary Hill apartment, Ichor relocated to its current LaFayette location in 2014. "The town of LaFayette has been incredibly supportive of the company, and is a wonderful community in which to live and work," said Moody of his decision to keep the business in LaFayette as it moves to a larger facility.

Investor Roger Bagg, founder of UK biotech company BioSenex, Ltd. began as one of Ichor's contract customers in 2014. "I have invested in biotech companies in both the UK and the US. Between its internal ophthalmology and aging research programs, as well as its contract research services, I believe Ichor is in a unique position to shake up this space," said Bagg of his decision to invest in Ichor. "My confidence in Ichor is born out of working closely with its CEO Kelsey Moody. His ability to grow Ichor from a small set-up in his living room, to the current team and facility, has impressed me greatly."

Moody received a BS from SUNY Plattsburgh and MBA from Concordia University. While an undergrad, Moody founded the SENS Foundation Academic Initiative, an international student research and development program which emphasizes regenerative medicine and biomedical gerontology. SENS Foundation Chief Science Officer Aubrey de Grey, who also serves as a scientific advisor to Ichor, is not surprised by news of Ichor's rapid growth. "Kelsey Moody built and led highly effective teams at SENS Foundation, and I have had no doubt that he would be successful in establishing Ichor. His ability to deliver on even his most aggressive plans is well-proven."

After completing his undergraduate education, Moody moved to Silicon Valley where he worked as Chief Technology Officer at ImmunePath, Inc., a start-up biotech company backed by Peter Thiel and Founder's Fund. In 2012, he returned to the Syracuse area to attend SUNY Upstate Medical University. As a medical student, Moody independently won a $540,000 research grant from Life Extension Foundation, which he used to found Ichor Therapeutics. "It was actually easier and less expensive for me to create a start-up company in my apartment than to operate through a university or existing company," recalls Moody. "There is a misconception out there that the barriers to entry for this sort of work are unsurmountable, but that is not the case. No one believed that my living room was as well-equipped scientifically as any faculty lab at my medical school – except the investors and clients who actually saw it."

Ichor quickly caught the attention of several prominent research organizations in the United States and abroad. By the end of Moody's 2nd year of medical school, Ichor had raised over $1 million in grants and contracts, and expanded to its current LaFayette location. To enable more time for research, Moody transferred from SUNY Upstate to an executive Ph.D. program through the University of Miami Miller School of Medicine, designed for working professionals. In the past year, the company has continued to grow. Its many backers and supporters include the Methuselah Foundation, a major sponsor of Ichor's oncology program. "Mr. Moody and the scientists at Ichor are making a signal contribution to exploring and solving the degeneration of aging," stated Dave Gobel, CEO at Methuselah Foundation. "We frequently call on Ichor when a knotty problem needs to be unraveled, or to verify critical findings from other investigators."

Kris Grohn, Associate Scientist and Kelsey Moody, CEO Ichor Therapeutics

To help balance the intense workflow of a start-up biotechnology company, Ichor facilitates a casual work environment. New employees receive challenges to earn company paraphernalia, including t-shirts, personalized lab coats, and ultimately NERF guns for use in company sponsored activities. Unfortunately for Roger and Ichor's other investors, Moody insists that "T-shirts, personalized lab coats, and NERF guns are earned at the company and cannot be bought." Roger noted that he plans on lobbying Ichor management in an attempt to overturn this, "outdated and persnickety policy."
